

AUDITION OPPORTUNITY

Star Choir

Composed by Malik Gaines
Libretto by Alexandro Segade

Directed by Malik Gaines & Alexandro Segade

Rehearsals: September 18 – 29, 2023

Performances: September 30-October 1, 2023

SINGERS

We are seeking a cast – of all genders and ages – that reflects the cultural and ethnic diversity of Los Angeles. This includes – but is not limited to: African American, African, Asian, Caribbean, Indigenous, Latinx, Native American, and Pacific Islander. Singers of diverse backgrounds and identities are encouraged to audition, including diverse musical backgrounds. All roles are paid.

AUDITIONS

Location: Downtown Los Angeles Saturday February 25 10am - 6pm

Auditioning: altos, tenors and baritones

To be considered for an audition time, please send any resumes and headshots to:
auditions@theindustryla.org

Material: Please come prepared with two contemporary arias or songs – sung in English. Dramatic and stylistic contrast recommended. There will be an accompanist in the room, please bring your accompaniment music with you. Speaker will be available for recorded accompaniment as well.

ABOUT THE PRODUCTION

Star Choir is a narrative experimental opera about a group of humans who attempt to colonize a distant planet after the earth's demise. The cast includes eight singers. The libretto is full of text and the music asks for both group singing and dialogic exchanges, with arias interspersed. The parts are mostly scored with some improvisatory sections based on simple instructions.