ABOUT

The Industry is an experimental company that expands the operatic form, bringing together interdisciplinary artists to create collaborative performances that engage the cultural landscape of Los Angeles. We believe that opera is a living form that should respond to new perspectives and voices in contemporary culture.

The Industry is currently casting show by all three artistic directors, Ash Fure, Malik Gaines, and Yuval Sharon, to be workshopped and performed at various times in 2024-2025.
