

The UM School of Theatre and Dance is accepting applications for two of its MFA graduate programs for Fall 2022: Costuming and Lighting. Compensation includes a stipend and a full or partial tuition waiver; when direct funding and residency-status savings are combined, total funding packages should be equivalent to approximately $36,818/year.

Fully NAST accredited, the School offers many production and teaching opportunities, close faculty mentorships, and well-equipped, professionally modeled production shops. Our students work in diverse performance venues including a proscenium theatre, a multiform theatre, and a dance performance space. Montana Repertory Theatre, a professional theatre-in-residence at UM, is fully integrated with the School's training programs, offering opportunities for students to gain professional credits.

Candidates with an interest in design/technology and teaching are encouraged to apply and will be given design positions in their primary and/or secondary specialty area(s).

Deadline for full consideration is March 1, 2022. Candidates may be considered on a space-available basis after the deadline. Before initiating the online application, individuals must email umtheatredance@umontana.edu to express interest and submit a current resume/CV.

We adhere to the values of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and encourage applicants who will add diversity to our program and embody these values.
